

ABOUT

Brandy Jackson

Brandy Jackson is a dedicated social worker with a passion for making a positive impact in her community. With extensive experience as a job developer, program manager, and coordinator, Brandy has demonstrated her commitment to helping individuals navigate the challenges of finding meaningful employment and accessing essential services.

As a mother of two boys, Samir Newsome (16 years old) and Samiri Newsome (9 years old), Brandy is deeply invested in advocating for mental health awareness and support. Together with her sons, she actively promotes healthy parenting practices, effective communication strategies, and meaningful community service initiatives.

Brandy's professional expertise extends to mental health programs, outreach efforts, and support services for families dealing with mental disabilities and related challenges. Her hands-on experience and compassionate approach have earned her recognition as a trusted mentor and ally for those in need.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Brandy enjoys traveling, supporting her boys in their various activities, serving at her local church, and advocating for self-care practices. She is also the proud owner of Feel More Essentials, a thriving business known for its top-selling Shea Butter and Hair Oils, which have gained popularity nationwide.

With her diverse skill set, unwavering dedication, and genuine compassion, Brandy Jackson continues to inspire and empower individuals to lead fulfilling lives and contribute positively to their communities.
